

Contributing to an endowment at Arkansas Community Foundation allows you to support the causes you care about long after you're gone. Endowments are permanently invested, and only a portion of the fund is used for grantmaking so the rest can be reinvested for the future. Gifts made to endowments snowball over time, creating a perpetual source of impact.

Consider this: A one-time donation to a nonprofit will be used to cover immediate needs. But by creating an endowment at the Community Foundation, you can support the nonprofit's immediate and long-term goals, along with other needs in your community, forever.
